One square, a paper story

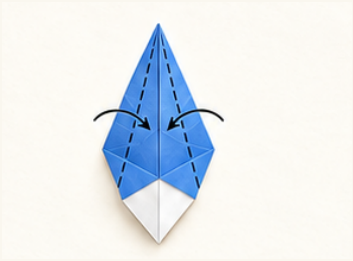

Thin 20 × 20 cm square with different colors on its sides. No scissors or glue.

Dashed line: new fold; fine line: existing crease; arrow: movement.

1. Make a kite base

Mark the square's center. Fold the two upper side edges to it.

2. Narrow the base

Fold the upper sloping edges to the center once more.

3. Raise the bottom tip

Fold the short white tip upward across the horizontal line.

4. Fold the base in half

Fold the right half behind the left along the center crease.

5. Mark the neck fold

Fold the upper point down to the left along the sloping line.

6. Mark head and horn

Fold the tip back right, then left again: two small folds.

7. Unfold the three creases

Raise the upper point again. Find the three sloping creases.

8. Reverse the neck inside

Separate the two layers and guide the lowest sloping crease between them.

9. Shape the muzzle

Inside reverse the next crease, bringing the long tip left.

10. Raise the horn

Inside reverse the last small crease to point the narrow tip upward.

11. Tuck the horn base

Tuck the small flap at the horn base between the head layers.

12. Add an eye

Draw an eye. Slip the long bookmark body between book pages.
